

CRUSHED BY ROCK DIES FROM SHOCK

Steve Cole Survives But a Few Hours After Injury to His Leg

Steve Cole, a well known miner who has been in the district for at least four or five years past died in the Copper Queen hospital yesterday afternoon from shock following injuries received yesterday morning in the Southwestern stope, one of the leasings from the Copper Queen company. His injuries were not such as to be supposedly fatal, confined to one leg, but to lose blood and shock his death is attributable. He is survived by a brother at Kingman and another at San Francisco.

Yesterday morning Steve Cole and another skilled miner went into new workings of the Southwestern stope to do timbering. On the course of this work a boulder fell upon Cole, crushing his leg severely and holding him pinned down. Aid was at once called to extricate the unfortunate man and a force was soon over him while he himself, never losing consciousness, directed the work. The rock so lay that if an attempt were made to roll it the result would have been that it would have rolled upon his body and Cole directed them how to pry the rock. On the way to the hospital he still retained consciousness and told his friends to see that his leg was not amputated. The member was horribly crushed and he had bled severely, but his friends expected his recovery. In the afternoon his strength failed and he died, the physicians attributing death to shock. From the hospital the body was taken to the O. K. Undertaking establishment and his relatives communicated with as to disposition of the body.

Practical Fashions

AN EMPIRE NIGHTGOWN.

It has the small square yoke reaching quite across the shoulders in both back and front. To this is joined the material when it is arranged in gathers. Just below the line of the bosom a double row of shirring may be placed or a row of heading and the material gathered into it. Ribbon run through the heading adds to the attractiveness of effect. The sleeves are long and of bishop design, but they may be cut off and allowed to flow freely as shown in the large illustration. Cambric, lawn, close-fitting muslin, long cloth and similar materials are suitable for this garment.

The pattern (4952) is cut in sizes 22 to 42 inches bust measure. The 26 inch size will require 5 1/2 yards of 25 inch material, with 1 1/2 yards of insertion, 2 yards of edging, 1 yard of heading, 1 1/2 yards of ribbon and 1/2 yard of 18 inch all-over to make as illustrated. If made of one material, 8 1/2 yards of 55 inch material will be needed.

To procure this pattern send 1 cent to "Practical Fashions," at this paper. Write name and address plainly, and be sure to give size and number of pattern.

Always.

A man always has a ready listener when he is trying to persuade himself that he has been wronged.

No Escape.

"These New York doctors and dentists put up a game on their patients that makes the best and best proposition seem as easy as A, B, C," said the man who complained that he hadn't been feeling just right. "The physician recommended a doctor. He said he could do nothing for me till I got my teeth fixed, so my digestion would improve, but when I went to the dentist he recommended he sent me back to the doctor because it wasn't worth while to work on my teeth until my general system got round. So I've been waiting for nothing and nothing."
